

INCREASING MARKET ACCESS FOR CHEYENNE RIVER PRODUCERS

Program Application

With funding support from the Native American Agriculture Fund, Four Bands has launched the “Increasing Market Access for Cheyenne River Producers” project, which will strengthen connections between our farmers market and local consumers. Approximately six local ag producers will be selected through the application process to participate in the one-year project. If selected, ag producers will receive:

- ◆ Training and customized coaching to improve financial management and business skills.
- ◆ Services from a field expert to strengthen marketing and branding.
- ◆ Reserved booth space at the farmers market for the 2024 season.

COMMITMENT TO PROJECT PARTICIPATION
So that the project will be most beneficial for everyone involved, we will select ag producers that can commit to being actively engaged participants. Participation in this project will require ag producers to sell products at our weekly farmers market from approximately July-September, complete approximately three 2-hour trainings, and attend approximately five one-on-one sessions. Is this a reasonable level of commitment for you?		<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
